EDITOR'S INTRODUCTION

The purpose of this index is to help people find material on any subject or locate any author included in the first 20 volumes of the Review of Religious Research. The subject index contains over 300 separate subjects (which have been cross-listed) and about 2,000 entries. The entries pertain to all the articles, research notes, commentaries, research and planning abstracts, and book reviews which have appeared in the Review since Volume 1 was published in 1959. The author index includes the names of about 1,500 people who have authored articles, research notes, commentaries, research and planning abstracts, books which have been reviewed, and book reviews.

Subject Index

Subjects are listed alphabetically. Entries under each subject are listed alphabetically according to the senior author's last name. If the author is included more than once under the same subject, items are arranged from the most recently published to the oldest.

The following codes are used to indicate the nature of each entry:

- ART = Articles
- RN = Research Notes
- COM = Commentaries
- AB = Research and Planning Abstracts
- BR = Book Reviews
- ED = Editorials

Author Index

Authors are listed alphabetically. If there are two or more entries under an author's name, they are arranged from the most recently published to the oldest.

Susan M. Hoagland

On behalf of the Religious Research Association and everyone who ever consults this volume, I want to express special thanks to Susan M. Hoagland, who compiled the index. At the time she began working on the index, Sue was finishing her undergraduate major in journalism at Purdue University and preparing for law school. Her resourcefulness and the extraordinary care she took in her work have resulted in the most comprehensive and useful index of its kind. She has the satisfaction of knowing that the seven months of work she put into this effort will aid in our understanding of religion for years to come.

embodiment

AN APPROACH TO SEXUALITY AND CHRISTIAN THEOLOGY

EMBODIMENT is a splendid book. There is, in my opinion, nothing better in print which addresses the theological implications of human sexuality, and as a feminist Christian social-ethicist, I particularly celebrate a work by a male theologian that sensitively and appreciatively attends to the best feminist insights. This book sets a standard for Christian discussion of the issue.

BEVERLY WILDUNG HARRISON
Union Theological Seminary, New York

EMBODIMENT speaks to the need for a theologically-based approach to human sexuality. In readable, non-technical language, Dr. Nelson describes the range of views on subjects and issues related to human sexuality, weighs each carefully in the light of Christian theology, and offers a responsible point of view.

EMBODIMENT is eminently readable, creative, forthright, and challenging even for those who might disagree.

CHARLES E. CURRAN
Catholic University, Washington, D.C.

Sexuality—the expression of one's total self as male or female—is so beautifully limned by James Nelson as central to one's humanity, that its centrality to one's love of God becomes crystal clear.

MARY S. CALDERONE, M.D., President
Sex Information and Education Council of the U.S.

Cloth, $8.95 Paper, $5.95
